Richwood

Richwood, April 28.- Our best wishes to James Fleshman for a rapid recovery from a serious case of flue, which has had him in bed for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cordell were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Guinn Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Wooldridge and their daughters, the Misses Virginia and Marvis, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Esmond Pugh Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore are the proud grandparents of another son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Moore Wednesday last week.

Mrs. Aubrey Fleshman is in a Lynchburg hospital, recovering from a recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Potter, of Pamplin called in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cordell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilburn and children were in Lynchburg Friday.

In accordance with the recommendations of the Agriculture Department and national organizations, G. P. Brannan has just completed planting 1500 lollypop pines on his place. He expects to plant from three to five thousand more. Mr. Brannan says he hopes this action will encourage others of the community to restock our rapidly diminishing timber.

COLORED DOTS

The public is invited to attend a special quartette program and contest at the Galilee Baptist Church this Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The program is sponsored for the benefit of the Health for Victory Club. Each group will render several favorite numbers.

The county-wide "Mr. Health for Victory Queen" rally is making progress. Each teacher has enrolled in the contest. The final crowning will be held on Field Day, May 9, at 2:30 P. M. at the Carver H. S.

A large crowd attended the regular preaching service at Galilee Baptist Church last Sunday. The pastor preached from the subject: A Christian Race. The yard rally sponsored at the close of the service was a success. The amount reported was $60.02.

The public is invited to worship at the First Baptist Church Sunday at the regular morning service.

The county-wide talent night program sponsored by the committee of the Health program of the Carver H. S. was a great success last Thursday night.

To The Voters of Appomattox County

Qualifications of Voters For 1947 Elections:

VETERANS:

The Constitution of Virginia cancels and annulls the poll taxes of a veteran whose discharge was not dishonorable for the year of his discharge, and for the three years next preceding the discharge.

Hence a veteran who was honorably discharged in 1945 was forgiven for his 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945 poll taxes, so he will have to pay his 1946 poll taxes six months prior to the general election in November to be qualified to register and vote in 1947.

A veteran who was honorably discharged in 1946 will only have to register 30 days before the primary to vote in the primary and in the general elections. He will not have to pay any poll taxes to vote in 1947.

NON-VETERANS:

All persons (except veterans) must pay 1944, 1945 and 1946 poll taxes six months prior to the general election in order to be qualified to register and vote in the primary or general election in 1947.

EXCEPT:

PERSONS MOVING INTO THE STATE:

Persons moving into the state must pay their poll taxes for the year they moved into the state and the years which follow (not to exceed three) in order to register and vote.

Thus a person who moves into Virginia in November, 1945, must pay his 1945 and his 1946 poll taxes in order to register and vote in 1947.

PERSONS BECOMING 21 YEARS OF AGE:

A person becoming of age in 1947, after January 1, may register and vote without paying any capitation tax in the primary and general elections in 1947.

If a person became of age in 1946 and delays registering until 1947, in order to be eligible to register in 1947 he must first pay his 1947 capitation tax, since the Constitution provides "If a person becomes of age at such a time that no capitation tax shall have been assessable against him for the year preceding the year in which he offers to register, such person must pay the first year's capitation tax assessable against him."

REGISTRATION:

Attention is called to all persons, who have not registered, to the provision of the election laws which require the registration books to be closed thirty days before the primary and thirty days before the general election.

Temple of Pharoah of 1300 B. C. Dynasty Found

CAIRO, EGYPT.—Ruins of a temple of Pharoah Nectanebes have been found at the ancient Egyptian capital of Tanis. Nectanebes reigned in the 30th dynasty, between 400 and 300 B. C.

M. Etienne Drioton, director of Egyptian antiquities, said the ruins were uncovered by Prof. Pierre Montet of University of Strasbourg, Alsace.

Excavators found a huge rose granite statue of a falcon at the entrance of the tomb, Drioton said, and uncovered parts of a large granite statue of Pharoah Ramesses II. Judging by a fragment of the head, the colossus was about 50 feet high, he added.

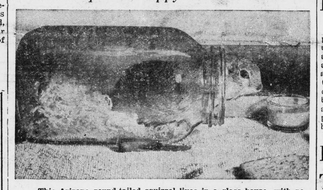
Desert Squirrel-Happy in Glass House



This Arizona round-tailed squirrel lives in a glass house, with no more privacy than a goldfish. Mindful of the old adage, he doesn't throw stones, and hopes that no one else does. Although a friendly and merry animal, he will bite if picked up suddenly. He lives on bread, milk and nuts. His fruit jar home stands on a shelf in Bronx zoo, New York City.

Well, Well! Here's Isaac Walton in Person!

Fittingly enough, Isaac S. Walton of Portland, Ore., is an enthusiastic and expert fisherman. He is president of the Portland Fishing club and a direct descendant, 16 generations removed, of the famous fishing philosopher, Izaak Walton, author of "The Compleat Angler."

Clean-Up Week

We ask YOU to Beautify and Know Appomattox Better.

Many have already cleaned, repaired, and painted and by the end of next week, the whole town will have put on its best face. Be ready for trash collections. Plant forsythia. Last year, and again this year, the planting of forsythia is being stressed. If enough of one flower is planted, the town will be a veritable showplace during the flowering season.

Friday — Civic Interest Day: When the work is done, you are invited to come into town, visit with your friends and make of the various churches and enterprises of interest. You will be cordially welcomed.

COUNTY P.-T.A. FEDERATION

The Appomattox County P.-T.A. Federation met Tuesday evening in the County Library. Among those present were: W. C. Sweitzer, Mrs. P. M. Burr, Mrs. Howlett Martin, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. John Gunter, G. F. Ablitt, Sr., Mrs. Hal Clarke, Mrs. H. T. Terry and Mrs. R. G. Holt.

BOWLING LEAGUE

The bowling schedule ended in a three-way tie between Moses, Lions and Shoe Shop. Moses defeated Lions in the first play-off and will now play the Shoe Shop team.

Fire Chief Issues Warning

E. D. Tegethoff, chief of the Appomattox Volunteer Fire Department, this week warned motorists against driving over the fire hose and against parking near fires so as to interfere with the work of the firemen. He stated that much damage was done o expensive hose by cars and trucks driving over it, and that frequently vehicles were parked too close to the truck and hose lines.

Donation To Texas City

In response to an appeal from Texas City, Texas, the Appomattox Volunteer Fire Company has sent a contribution of $25 to that city, where 27 out of 45 volunteer firemen were lost in the recent explosion and fire.

Hey, everyone! Here we are back again. Everyone is happy so far as we can find out after a big week at the carnival. Just about everyone was at the carnival at one time or another so it seems (except Dot Munsey. She has decided to play the hermit for awhile we believe). Frank McCann and Margery Godsey were there one night at least. Helen Mae ran up on Tye as well as Anne Taylor did on David Caldwell. James Hall was there and Florence McFadden. And so were Jo Martin and Dick Smith. David Nash and June Smith, Donald and Elaine, and, of course, Tommy and Garnet. Well, that's enough of the carnival. That at least gives you an idea of who was there.

Tuesday we were fortunate to have two distinguished speakers at our high school. Dr. Henry Turlington together with Rev. Walker of the Baptist Church came up and gave us two interesting talks.

We haven't heard yet who will be in the Senior play. Anyhow, whoever they are they will be plenty lucky and we wish them success in their parts. We know they'll be good.

The Seniors are really busy now from what we hear. They went on a picnic Tuesday night. The Civics Club gave it and Mrs. Jennings and Miss Moses were kind enough to help. We know they had a grand time!

There was a little two-timing going on over the week-end among other things. For instance, how about Tommy Mayberry and that cute girl he was with Friday night. And Patsy was taken over by "another Mayberry" Sunday night. Now how about that?

A movie was given up at school Wednesday afternoon for the whole school. It was a movie adaptation of one of Jack London's books.

The Music Appreciation and the Latin classes are giving two plays for the community on Wednesday, May 7. They want all the people to come out and see the show and in that way support the school.

Our baseball boys have really been having games lately. Tuesday afternoon they played Clarksville and other games are scheduled to be played soon. We always wish the boys luck.

Well as much as we hate it, we're afraid we'll have to. We just say "so long." (But not for long, we hope).

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY

The County Library now has many of the current "best sellers." The following new books have recently been added:

Gentlemen's Agreement, by Laura Z. Hobson. The story concerns a non-Jewish writer who is assigned to write a series of articles on anti-Semitism for a great liberal weekly magazine in New York city.

A Garden To The Eastward, by Harold Lamb.

House Of Mist, by Maria-Louisa Bombal.

The Chequer Board, by Nevil Shute.

Sleeping Beauty, by Faith Baldwin.

Where Two Ways Met, by Grace Livingston Hill.

This is Garden Week in Virginia.

Horsley Farm Took Lead In This Section

The story of Rolf Horsley's idea for pasture improvement in the dark-tobacco area of Virginia, which has benefitted farmers all over the Piedmont section, is told in the May issue of Country Gentleman.

Mr. Horsley, who died in 1944, owned an 1100 acre farm in Appomattox County, John L. Harrison, who bought the farm after the death of Mr. Horsley, has carried on the program of good pasture-successful livestock, according to authors Wilbert Schaal and M. H. McVicker, editor and agronomist, respectively, of the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station.

Entitled "Hiring Cattle to do the Work", the story tells of Mr. Horsley's foresight when the bottom dropped out of the tobacco market after the first World War. Surveying all avenues, he chose livestock as having the greatest possibility, due to the nature of the soil and the topography of the region.

"Being inherently research-minded," the article continues, "Rolf Horsley, in 1925, went to Dr. W. A. Drinkard, Jr., at that time director of the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station and suggested that experiments in pasture establishment, improvement and management be started in the dark-tobacco area of Virginia, which was a little regarded practice in those days. He offered his farm and cattle for use on such a project. This collaboration caught fire, a pasture development program was inaugurated a year later and has been in progress ever since."

Mr. Horsley lived to see his revolutionary brainstorm grow to be a gospel of efficient pasture and explode over the countryside of Piedmont Virginia. Mr. Harrison, the article adds, is also a fervent disciple of Piedmont farming, and it was no coincidence that Ladino clover was first grown in Middle Virginia on this farm.

"Although his success story sounds pretty good so far, Mr. Harrison, at the age of thirty-seven, is not at all satisfied, and won't be until more of the acres of open land are converted to soil-preserving pasture," the article says.

LAWRENCE WILEY MANN

Lawrence Wiley Mann died in the Lynchburg General Hospital on Tuesday afternoon, following an illness of about three weeks. He was born November 15, 1938, son on Louis Wiley and Alice Elizabeth Womack Mann. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Nora May, Andrew Wilson, Rouselee and Jerry Allen, all of Spout Spring.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the grave in Concord Cemetery.

CLAUDE M. DRINKARD

Claude Merrill Drinkard, 62, died Saturday at his home near Stonewall, this county.

Mr. Drinkard was the husband of the late Willie M. Reuton and the son of Mrs. Pattie Harris Drinkard and the late George E. Drinkard.

He was born in Appomattox County, June 5, 1884, and was a farmer by occupation. He was a member of Hebron Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held at Stonewall Presbyterian Church on Monday at 3 P. M.

EVERGREEN P.-T. A.

The P.-T. A. of the Evergreen school met April 24, at the school. This month our program was based on health. There were five new members. Committees were named as follows:

Program: chairman, Mrs. J. C. Womack.

Lunch Room: chairman, Mrs. J. A. Garrett.

Membership: chairman, Mrs. J. A. Clapp.

Social and Recreational: chairman, Mrs. Julian White.

The next meeting will be held on May 22nd., at the school.
